

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation.

This is an extreme example of a large media company working against democracy. One of the most important purposes of media in a democratic society is to provide as much unbiased information as possible to the citizens.

The fact that they would even ask, let alone force, their stations to broadcast such biased information is un-American and undemocratic.

Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. Any of Sinclair's stations that actually shows this biased stuff should have their licenses revoked and Sinclair should be fined.

Thank you.
